

PERSONAL MISSION STATEMENT OF DONALD R. JEFFERIES

It is my mission in life to make waves in the sea of existence...

Waves that will help my wife and children reach the crest of success and self-fulfillment.

Waves that will raise the tides of success and happiness for family members, friends, and all who are influenced by my actions.

Waves that will crash through the walls of ignorance, denial, and deprivation and leave a wake of enlightenment, awareness, and abundance.

Waves that will raise the level of educational accomplishment for everyone.

Waves that will create estuaries of democratic practices leading people to economic and personal freedom through responsible behavior.

Waves that will bathe the communities in which I live with a sense of optimism and hope.

Waves that will test the body's ability to stay fit and enjoy the pulsating adventures in life.

Waves that create pools of time for reflective thought and prayer, and provide a basis for spiritual action.

Waves that in their dying days will ripple out into a sea of calm satisfaction.

Waves that when they have washed away will reveal new treasures for others to explore.

Donald R. Jefferies, M.A.
October, 1996 ©1998